

Local Leathercraftsmen at convention

Five members of the Woodstock Branch of the Canadian Society for Creative Leathercraft attended the International Assembly of Leathercraftsmen in Toronto.

Attending were president Mrs. James Reynolds, Mrs. Thomas Manuel, Mrs. Robert Racknor, Mrs. J. C. Creamer and Mrs. Angus McLean.

Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. McLean were successful in their test pieces for their associate standing in the guild and Mrs. McLean received the CSCL award pin for attaining the highest marks in the associate class.

Mrs. Reynolds received a salon and craftsman ribbon for a molded leather tray and Mrs. McLean received craftsman ribbons for a morocco pocket secretary and an antiqued rouged belt.

On hundred and fifty craftsmen attended from various parts of North America. President of the Canadian Society is Mrs. Arthur Ford of Hamilton and chairman for the event was Mrs. Robert Muma of Toronto.

There are six Ontario branches of the society in London, Woodstock, Barrie, Toronto, Hamilton and Belleville.
