REPORT OF THE 42ND ANNUAL MEETING CANADIAN SOCIETY FOR CREATIVE LEATHERCRAFT

Lois MacPherson

Members began arriving at the Beacon Inn on the shores of Lake Ontario on Friday afternoon and evening. The usual excitement was in the air as the 42nd Annual Meeting weekend began.

While the judges pursued their difficult task on Friday evening, Lois MacPherson demonstrated moulding and stamping small card cases over plexiglass, in the hospitality room. Other demonstrations and a workshop were held over the next two-day period. Cliff McTavish (we want that stitching horse, Cliff!) showed his stitching techniques on Saturday afternoon, followed by Bill Whittingham demonstrating tool sharpening. Thanks for the great hand-outs, Bill. Meanwhile, Jessie Little held two demonstrations on the use of colour and colouring techniques on Saturday afternoon and followed it up with a hands-on workshop on Sunday morning. As always, Jessie was wonderfully prepared for her students.

Saturday morning saw 63 members registering and looking over this year's entries, which were pretty impressive. As they passed or stopped at the registration desk, Joyce Scruton did a masterful job of selling them tickets for the draw tables. One winner of a special draw didn't even realize she had bought a ticket on the item, so smooth was the pitch of this master salesperson!

At the Annual Meeting Saturday morning, President Don MacLeod reported on the year's activities and called for changes in the structuring of prizes, etc.

A life membership was given to Edith Melchior-Hawkins of Woodstock, who, gave a lovely speech of acceptance.

Saturday evening brought the banquet and Awards. There were nineteen Craftsman Award winners and eight Salon Award winners.

Sixty-five people sat down to a Beacon-style (delicious) roast beef dinner.

Three special cash awards were given: the Irva Ford Award ($100) for the best moulded work; the Anne Hook Award ($100) for the best coloured work; and the Best in Salon Award ($50).

The Weston Trophy was won by Hamilton, with an impressive display of their well-known talent.

Bill Reis, publisher of the Leather Craftsman's Journal, was the guest speaker. He talked about leathercraft with reference to St. Paul's words on the satisfaction and benefits of working with one's hands. It was a most appropriate message for our Meeting and very much appreciated.

A special treat was in store for us after dinner. That accomplished musician, Rick Fielding, played his guitar and sang songs. The audience joined in with him, although our pitch was probably not quite as perfect as his!

All in all, the 42nd Annual Meeting was a great success. It is always nice to see friends you only meet once a year and the mood of all was festive and friendly.

Good luck to Norland with their 43rd Annual Meeting. We look forward to getting together for fun, fellowship and friendly competition.

Dorothy Muma would like all those who have not already done so, to fill in and mail the pink questionnaire form. This is your Society please send in your ideas and suggestions.

CRITIQUES OF THE WESTON TROPHY ARTICLES

Hamilton Branch got 80.8% on their Weston Trophy pieces.

The Dancing Mukluks got 81% was made by David Windeyer. The mukluks have good colour co-ordination with a great use of the fur, the bone conchos are very effective.

The Shell Box got 83% was made by David McPherson. An excellent design and has a lid that closes well. The sea shell design is very pleasing to the eye.

The Tray got 74% was made by Muriel McKnight. The brown tray is of good design and has a hammered decoration on it. The back is nicely finished. There could be a bit more bevel to the edge.

The Card Holder got 76% was made by Sharon Beasley. The corners are nicely mitred. The wine colour with gold inlay is pleasing to the eye and suitable to the purpose.

The Lasted Box got 90% was made by Ruth Haig. The wine coloured box is an elegant article that has a pleasing shape with the lid fitting beautifully. The box has an excellent colour job with an interesting interior. Kudos.

Woodstock Branch got 73.8% on their Weston Trophy pieces.

The Leather Maché Wastebasket got 82% was made by Loreen Manuel. The wastebasket is very solid and good looking, and perhaps could use a lining.

The Leather Maché Footstool got 82% was made by Buella Reynolds. The application of the top is very exacting and makes a very attractive piece. This is a good use for levelling splits

The Deerskin Purse got 75% was made by Nancy Durham. The purse is a pleasant design. The gusset is a little crooked.

The Eyeglass Case got 60% was made by Madeleine Mitchell. The leather is too stiff and hard to fit modern glasses. The design on the outside is pleasing. The lining is torn at the fold.

The Cherub Face got 70% was made by Margaret Monteith. This made a very pleasant article that was moulded over a form. This is a good use of scrap leather.

History of the Woodstock Branch by Madeleine Mitchell

In the mid-1960's a small group of leathercrafters from the Woodstock area attended an International leathercraft meeting in Michigan. During that event they met members of the Canadian Society for Creative Leathercraft who convinced them to become members. They travelled to CSCL meetings in London, Ontario for about two years before forming the Woodstock Branch in 1968.

Woodstock's first president was Beula Reynolds, ACSCL. Other early members were Loreen manuel, Jean Rachnor, Dorothy Aird, and Carol McLean, FCSCL.

In 1969 Woodstock entered its first Weston Trophy branch competition. 1971 marked the first Annual Meeting held by Woodstock. Members of the branch taught night school courses and by 1972 membership swelled to 30. During the 70's Woodstock members brought home numerous Salon and Craftsman ribbons and in 1975, the Weston Trophy.

Membership dwindled in the 1980's but the small, eager group continued to participate in workshop exhibitions and to take active part in the CSCL Executive Council. Woodstock members held positions including President, Secretary, Archivist, and Director.

The 90's started with the hosting of CSCL's 40th Annual Meeting and in September, hosted the Leather '90 Biennial Exhibition.

Woodstock membership presently hovers around 12, but members remain enthusiastic, active and dedicated to CSCL.

The following change has been made to the By-Laws of the Canadian Society for Creative Leathercraft. Please amend your copy. Effective April 25, 1992. This change was voted on at the Annual meeting.

ARTICLE XII SECTION 1

"All cheques issued by the Society shall be signed by any two of the following: Treasurer, President and Recording Secretary, or any other such person or persons designated by the Executive Council."

Bi-Ennial Show 1992

The Bi-Ennial Show '92 is at the Etobicoke Civic Centre from September 3, to September 30, 1992.

I have to admit to a few errors on the Call for Entry forms. So please make note of the changes on your forms.

At the last Executive meeting it was voted that the entry fee will be $10.00. This increase from $5.00 will cover the losses that the Guild could inhibit, so for minimal loss the entry fee was raised.

On the forms that the entrant sends to the Muma's the fee of $5.00 is indicated 3 times. I forgot to change the price on this section of the sheet, so Please change this figure to $10.00.

Also, the Judging Date at the Muma's is on July 30th, this date is correct. The 30th falls on a Thursday rather than on a Saturday. All the Entry pieces need to be at the Muma's home before Wednesday July 29, 1992.

There are a few Prize changes for this Bi-Ennial Show. The IRVA FORD AWARD has been increased to $100.00. The other change is the two MOORE-PEARSALL AWARDS which have been increased to $75.00.

The Awards are as follows:

CSCL Executive Award	$75.00
Most Functional Article
CSCL Award	$75.00
Judges' Special Award
Ontario Crafts Council	$50.00
Most Original Design
Moore-Pearsall Awards
Best Tooled Design	$75.00
Best Moulded Piece	$75.00
Michigan Leather Award	$50.00
Best Soft Leather Article
Irva Ford Award	$100.00
Best in Show

ONTARIO CRAFT COUNCIL Guidelines for the Design Award

The design Award is meant to encourage design excellence and is to be given to that piece in your exhibition that best exemplifies design factors such as colour, tone (light and dark), form, balance, and suitability of the piece to use (if applicable). The standard against which it is judged is that established in the exhibition. In other words, the piece does not have to be 'best in the world' but best compared to other works in the exhibition.

The Ontario Crafts Council is pleased to provide the Design Award, and We look forward to hearing about your recipient.

CLARICE PACKHAM died July 1991, living into her nineties. She was a Fellow and a Life Member.

Clarice Packham, Edith Roscoe, and Isabel Hanna started the Weston Leathercraft Guild. The Guild merged and she became a Charter member of the CSCL. The Packham home was the scene of many meetings and classes, giving many workshops and many demonstrations to guild members. She also taught classes at Weston Collegiate. Clarice learned her glove making in the USA and was also taught by F.O. BAIRD. Being equal to any challenge, she made decorative gloves; practical gloves; and also gloves for crippled hands. Clarice was also an expert in other areas of leathercraft, including design. She was top judge at the CNE and also won numerous prizes for her leather articles, there and from the guild.
